

NARR NATIONAL DIRECTORY

Provider Setup & Quick-Start Guide

Powered by Behave Health

Your residence belongs in this directory.

The NARR National Directory powered by Behave Health is a dynamic, data-driven platform that connects individuals, families, treatment centers, case managers, courts, and referral networks to accredited recovery residences across the United States. Every listing is backed by NARR certification standards — so anyone searching the directory can trust what they find.

OVERVIEW

What Is the NARR National Directory?

Built through Behave Health's strategic alliance with the National Alliance for Recovery Residences (NARR), the directory creates a single, verified source of accredited recovery housing across the country. It is both operator-driven and ecosystem-focused — meaning providers control their own profiles, and the people who need housing can find the right fit quickly.

HOW IT WORKS

→ Profile Optimization

Certified recovery residence operators log in to the platform and update their profile with details about their residence: NARR level, priority populations served, payment methods, staff qualifications, accessibility features, policies, and more.

→ Filterable Public Search

On the public-facing side, referral partners — treatment centers, case managers, courts, families, and individuals — use advanced filters to locate residences that match specific needs, including substance use type, priority populations, languages served, demographics, and care intensity.

→ Data Aggregation for Impact

As operators update their profiles, aggregated data feeds back to FARR at the state level — and up to NARR at the national level — providing insights on trends, gaps, and resource needs that inform policy and funding decisions.
